

Communicating Our Mission

Renée N. Stoeckle

This is Me.

“We are not the sum of our weaknesses and failures, we are the sum of the Father's love for us and our real capacity to become the image of His Son Jesus”

-St. John Paul II

We are GLORIOUS.

But we're selling ourselves short.

“The Catholic School’s function is not merely to be an instrument with which to combat the education given in a State school.”

-Catholic Schools on the Threshold of the Third Millennium

“Illuminate all knowledge with the light of faith” for “the Church supports and enlightens (students) with a social doctrine which is waiting to be put into practice by courageous and generous men and women of faith”

-Catholic Schools on the Threshold of the Third Millennium

“Catholic Schools are the Heart of the Church”

-Catholic Schools on the Threshold of the Third Millennium

What do we tell people?

“the Catholic school finds its true justification in the mission of the Church”

-Catholic Schools on the Threshold of the Third Millennium

“They are teachers of the faith; however like Christ, they must also be teachers of what it means to be human, including such things as affection, tact, understanding, serenity of spirit, a balanced judgement, patience in listening to others and prudence in the way they respond, and, finally, availability for personal meetings and conversations with students”

-Catholic Schools on the Threshold of the Third Millennium

“From the first moment that a student sets foot in a Catholic school, he or she ought to have the impression of entering a new environment, one illuminated by the light of faith, and having its own unique characteristics”

-The Religious Dimension of Education in the Catholic School

Look out, 'cause here we come
